Cowboys will have linebacker Sean Lee in the lineup as they try to slow the Indianapolis offense. T.Y. Hilton did not practice all week as he dealt with an ankle injury <http://www.bengalscheapshop.com/cheap-au...c-ryan-finley-jersey>, which marked the third straight week that Hilton has missed practice time and the third different injury that landed him on the injury report. Hilton wound up listed as questionable for the second week in a row and, just like last week, he's in the lineup. Hilton had nine catches for 199 yards in last Sunday's win over Houston. Lee is active for the first time since Week Nine as he's gotten the green light to return from his hamstring injury. Rookie Leighton Vander Esch played well in Lee's absence and is expected to retain a significant role on defense with the veteran back in action. The Jaguars announced they have exercised the 2019 options on the contracts of defensive end Calais Campbell

Campbell's option is for $3 million on top of his $12 million base salary, Tom Pelissero of NFL Media reports. But Campbell he has 25 sacks in his two seasons since signing with the Jaguars as an unrestricted free agent in 2017. He is entering his 12th NFL season. McCray, who is entering his seventh NFL season

, also signed with the Jaguars as an unrestricted free agent in the 2017 offseason. He has played 26 games in two seasons with Jacksonville and has totaled 16 special teams tackles during that span. Davis, who will play in his seventh NFL season in 2019, signed with the Jaguars as an unrestricted free agent in the 2018 offseason. He led the team with 10 special teams tackles this past season. Seferian-Jenkins' option was for $4 million. He now becomes an unrestricted free agent next month
