I can't believe this year is almost over...wow.It's been yet another fun year to scout and enjoy this great game; below I have compiled a jumble of notes and thoughts on a handful of prospects and potential prospects for the up coming NFL Draft.So Myles Gaskin Jersey Boys , please enjoy this edition and feel free to comment below.Thanks for reading.D'Andre Walker, LB, GeorgiaIt was easy to spot Walker during the SEC championship game - he was terrific.However, it wasn't just that game, he's been great all season long - Walker has been an impressive prospect.He's got great instincts, very versatile and has great pass rushing skills.I also love his drive and hustle that he shows.John David Mercer-USA TODAY SportsJeffery Simmons, DT, Mississippi St.Simmons is another guy who has enjoyed a fantastic season.To get right to the point, I think Quinnen Williams is the best guy I've scouted this season and Simmons isn't far behind him.I think he's solid against the run and his athleticism makes him a pretty good pass rusher from the DT position.He is a solid first round pick and an immediate contributor in the NFL.Vasha Hunt-USA TODAY SportsParris Campbell, WR, Ohio St.I have been a fan of Campbell for quite some time and he did not disappoint me this season.I think he's one of the most dangerous receivers in the country and I obviously love his speed - especially at his size. He is an exciting player to watch and a guy who could immediate help any NFL team. Aaron Doster-USA TODAY SportsZach Allen, DE, Boston CollegeAllen is a guy who I don't believe is getting enough attention.....and many people have him as a first round prospect.I have really liked the film I've watched on Allen this season.I think he's quick, strong, great tackler, non-stop motor, hell of a run stopper and provides a good pass rush.Allen is a fantastic prospect and already one of favorites in this draft. Winslow Townson-USA TODAY SportsJosh Allen, LB, KentuckyJosh Allen is getting a lot of love right now and rightfully so.After I saw that he won the Nagurski Trophy I wasn't surprised at all- he had a phenomenal year.For me, I can't remember another prospect that I saw improve so much between 2 seasons.I am very impressed with Allen and see a bright future ahead of him in the NFL. Jamie Rhodes-USA TODAY SportsAlex Wesley, WR, Northern ColoradoI'll admit I haven't watched much on Wesley - but I keep hearing nothing but good things about him and from the tape that I have watched - he's an impressive guy.He's definitely someone to keep on our radar.Photo by Dustin Bradford/Getty ImagesCollin Johnson, WR, TexasI've written about him before - if you guys follow any of my work, you know how much I like Johnson.He's been terrific this season and I wouldn't be surprised to see him declare.He's one of my top WRs in this class.Photo by Ronald Martinez/Getty ImagesByron Murphy, CB, WashingtonI really like Murphy.I love his game that he plays; he's a well rounded and tough CB that can hit with a capital H.People knock him on his size, but I see too much potential and skill to pass on him.I have a first round grade on him.Photo by Otto Greule Jr/Getty ImagesDevin White, LB, LSU I see greatness in White.I love it when you can 'see' the love of the game in a prospect's play and I see that in White.His size does scare me a bit - mainly because he's so stinking aggressive, but I see too much talent and potential in White.He's had a great season and would be deadly on our defense.Photo by Jonathan Bachman/Getty ImagesHere are some other prospects that I have been impressed with:Dax Raymond, TE, Utah St.Nasir Adderley
